Summer is here and Riverside county continues to show a dramatic decrease in COVID-19 cases. Plans to return to campus this fall for in-person instruction continue and we anticipate retiree and emeriti programs to return to in-person while still providing a virtual option. In May 2021, at the Spring Virtual Luncheon, we welcomed the new UCRRA and UCREA executive board. Congratulations to the new board members and a special thank you to our past board members. In this issue, you will find updates on the retiree red lot parking permit, emeriti award winners, results to the 2020 CUCRA Survey, summer events and more!

2020 - 2021 Panunzio Award Winner

UCR Professor Emeritus Carlos Cortés Wins 2020-2021 Panunzio Award

The Constantine Panunzio Distinguished Emeriti Award is a system-wide honor that recognizes University of California Emeriti for distinguished research, teaching, and service during their retirement. For 2020-2021, the Panunzio Award is being shared by UC San Diego Professor Emeritus of Political Science Wayne Cornelius and UCR’s Professor Emeritus of History Carlos Cortés.

Over a quarter of a century has passed since his formal “retirement” in 1994, Carlos Cortés has continued his deep engagement with issues of diversity and multiculturalism in scholarship, popular writings, public activism, and cultural and educational contributions aimed at children. His book The Children Are Watching: How the Media Teach about Diversity, published in 2000, was a major theoretical and conceptual contribution to the literature in both education and media studies. This work was followed in 2002 by The Making and Remaking of a Multiculturalist, which has been described as “an important contribution to the educational literature on diversity and education.” In 2012, Cortés published a memoir about his family entitled Rose Hill: An Intermarriage before its Time. This was followed by a one-person play A conversation with Alana: One Boy’s Multicultural Rite of Passage. Cortés has now performed this play more than 150 times around the country. In 2016, Cortés published a book of poetry, Fourth Quarter: Reflections of a Cranky Old Man. Most recently, he has completed a novel, Scouts’ Honor, currently under review.

While producing these diverse publications, Cortés has performed an even longer list of services. He has consulted for federal, state, and county programs and over 250 school districts, and has given scores of public lectures at universities, schools, and public institutions. Cortés has been a consultant to Nickelodeon since May 2000, and has helped to produce such widely watched children’s television programs as “Dora the Explorer.” For the City of Riverside, Cortés has served since 1999 as the coordinator of the Mayor’s Multicultural Forum. At UC Riverside, Cortés has been a frequent coordinator of the annual conference in honor of Tomas Rivera. In 2020, Cortés was appointed Co-Director of the Health Equity, Social Justice, and Anti-Racism curriculum of UCR’s School of Medicine, where he has brought energy and passion to his teaching.

These many accomplishments and services have earned Cortés numerous honors and awards. For his contributions to Nickelodeon Cortés received the NAACP Image Award in 2009. Other accolades include honorary doctorates from the College of Wooster and DePaul University, and the Carlos Cortés Diversity and Inclusion Award established by the City of Riverside.

Cortés’ colleagues in the UCR Emeriti Association salute him for these many achievements, and congratulate him for being honored as one of two Constantine Panunzio Distinguished Emeriti for 2020-2021.

2020-2021 Distinguished Emeriti Award Winners

2020-2021 Distinguished Emeriti Award Winner: Jonathan Turner

Professor Jonathan Turner had accumulated an exemplary record of achievement by the time of his retirement in 2015. His high levels of research productivity and professional service earned him numerous honors during his working years. In 2010, Turner was elevated to the rank of University Professor, making him the 38th Professor in the history of the University of California to be honored with that title.

Turner’s research productivity since his retirement in 2015 has been even more extraordinary. Richard Machalek, Professor Emeritus at the University of Wyoming and a co-author of one of four books that Turner has published since his retirement, writes that Turner’s “rate of academic output has not slowed since 2015, and in fact, it may be accelerating.” In 2019 UC Riverside Distinguished Professor Christopher Chase-Dunn described Turner’s productivity since his retirement as “prodigious,” and noted that in addition to four books, Turner’s output since 2015 by that time included five refereed journal articles, three solicited articles, and fifteen book chapters and handbook entries.

For Turner, the four books that he has written since his retirement are not an end, but a beginning. His C.V. lists five additional works in progress.

In addition to being extraordinarily productive as a researcher during his retirement, Turner has also remained active professionally, making presentations to academic departments and professional meetings, and contributing opinion pieces to the American Sociologist. Turner has recently held appointments as a Research Professor at UC Santa Barbara and as a Distinguished Professor of the Graduate Division at UC Riverside. At UCSB he has also headed its Institute for Theoretical Social Science.

2020-2021 Distinguished Emeriti Award Winner: Victor Lippit

On the basis of Victor Lippit’s outstanding leadership in revitalizing the UCR Emeriti Association and his strong contributions to the UCR and system-wide Faculty Welfare Committee since his retirement in 2012, we are pleased to award him the 2020-2021 Distinguished Emeriti Award.

Following his retirement, Professor Lippit served on the UC Faculty Welfare Committee and on the UCR Senate Executive Council. During this period, he was instrumental in preventing destructive cuts to the UCR Child Care Center.

In 2017 Professor Lippit was elected UCREA President and undertook an energetic process of organizational planning and program development. He recruited a dozen members to reconstitute the Association’s Executive Board, which has flourished since.

Recognizing that UCR was far behind our sister campuses in supporting staff retirees and emeriti faculty, Professor Lippit tried to establish a close working relationship with the UCR Retirees Association and to establish a Retirement Center to support both associations. And he succeeded brilliantly! He succeeded so brilliantly, in fact, that we are already celebrating a strong board and beginning plans to raise funding to help underwrite a new Retirement Center. If we succeed, this new Retirement Center will be a hub for UCR retirees and a center for meetings and events. Victor’s energy and enthusiasm has been at the center of the plan since its inception. It is clear to everyone familiar with these achievements that the UCR Emeriti Association would have perished without Professor Lippit’s dedication and hard work.

UC Riverside Operational Updates

Governor Gavin Newsom announced the reopening of the state on June 15, 2021 due to decreasing coronavirus cases and increased vaccinations. The UCR campus is planning for the return in fall to mostly in-person classes and the University of California will issue a policy on July 15, 2021 that requires COVID-19 vaccinations of students, faculty, and employees as part of the expected fall return.

On June 23, 2021, Chancellor Wilcox announced that fully vaccinated employees and students may work indoors without face coverings, except for staff in health care settings and programs with children under 12 years of age, per Cal/OSHA requirements. Unvaccinated employees and students must continue to wear masks indoors, unless alone in a room or a vehicle, and must remain at least six feet from others when eating or drinking indoors.

All emeriti and retiree programs/events for the summer will continue to be offered virtually at this time.
